"A customer had severe arthritis and couldn't climb the stairs in his home without great difficulty. The back stairs were impossible for him as well because they were higher than regular stairs. I showed the Pilot Step-Up Cane to him and his daughter and they thought it might work and wanted to take it home to try it out. Since I had never sold one before, I wasn't so sure how it would turn out. They phoned back and said it was very effective, tremendously effective."
